Paging and Holds

I've printed out title paging slips and noticed that several are for items that we already have checked out. What should I do?

Answer 1

This setting does exist, but we had to ask III to implement it. With this setting, requests are still allowed on checked out items, but paging slips are only printed for available items. When a checked out item with a Prospector hold is returned, you will be notified of the hold at which point you can choose to queue a paging slip (which then prints from the notice job as usual).

Answer 2

This has always been the case for Prospector items. We just throw away the paging slips for any items that are checked out. When items are returned the Prospector hold shows up at check in.
